

Brooklyn Center City-Wide Survey

The city has contracted with Leatherman and Associates to conduct a city-wide survey. Leatherman solely conducts this survey and is conducted over the phone. The last survey was completed in 2017. The information obtained from the survey will assist the City Council and City staff in framing the city's future Strategic Priorities. The survey will take about five weeks to complete, and the results will be presented at a future city council meeting.

State of the City

Mayor April Graves delivered her first State of the City (SOTC). Mayor Graves outlines staff changes the city has endured, the two new positions of Office of Community Health, Prevention, and Safety, and the Office of Equity & Human Resources, public safety, city commissions and task forces, Emerging BC, Economic Development, as well new initiatives: Strategic Planning for the city, and outcome-based budgeting. Great work in Brooklyn Center will continue in the coming months. The last quote is, "Unity is Strength...when there is teamwork and collaboration, wonderful things can be achieved."

City News

BC Liquor

After prohibition, many states wanted to continue a form of control over liquor in many different ways. Since 1949 the City of Brooklyn Center has owned and operated municipal liquor stores. In Minnesota, if a city is under 10,000 people, it can start its municipal liquor operation to include on and off-premise. Once a city reaches 10,000 people, it can decide to stay in business and continue operations.

In Minnesota currently, there are approximately 200 cities that exercise this option. Many of these belong to the Minnesota Municipal Beverage Association (MMBA). This is a trade organization that assists with operations and helps members to succeed in their business.

The store below was located where Top Golf currently sits, and next year we will celebrate our 75th anniversary in business.

In Brooklyn Center, we have been as high as 7 Million in sales, bringing us to the 8th largest operation in the state. We have had three stores operating in the past, but today we only operate two. We usually go by BC Liquor, but there is a larger BC Liquor out there; Canada also owns and operates government liquor stores, and British Columbia goes by BC Liquor, and that's why our website is www.Brooklyncenterliquor.com.

Our stores employ a full staff of 35 people; eight are Full-Time staff. The staff is the backbone of our operation, with several long-term employees. We often refer to ourselves as BC Liquor Family and support each other through good and bad times. One of our staff, Ace, received worldwide attention this past

The first Brooklyn Center Municipal Liquor Store (off-sale) was opened in December 1949 at 6445 Lyndale Avenue.

December as she gave the shoes off her feet to an unhoused man putting boxes on his feet in our entryway. We posted a thank you to Ace on our social media, and it went viral; she trended all over the United States and even in England and Spain. The Minnesota Vikings honored her during a game as their Hometown Hero. This caring spirit runs throughout many of our staff members here as they understand people's everyday struggles. I send a HUGE THANK YOU to all the staff here; keep up the excellent work!

Over the years, we have had the opportunity to do some enjoyable things at BC Liquor. We opened a third store near Surly Brewing in Brooklyn Center for nine years. We exclusively sold their Surly Darkness, a Russian imperial stout only produced once a year in limited quantities. This event would draw up to 5,000 people looking to get their hands on this delicious nectar of the Gods while heavy metal music played in the background.

We also get involved with local fundraisers; this year, we collected funds for Soldier 6, an organization supporting our service dogs: Brooklyn for the Fire Department and Rex for the Police Department. We have also worked closely with CEAP on food fundraisers, Meal on Wheels, and this year we started Ace's Warmth Campaign to collect shoes, blankets, coats, and gloves for people in need. They are truly special to all staff and community members here in Brooklyn Center.

Last year we did a fundraiser for our Fire Department where we could outfit every firefighter with a bulletproof vest so we could keep those who keep us safe every day!

We have had the honor of being named one of the top 100 liquor stores in the nation by Beverage Dynamics, a national liquor publication.

In the future, we hope to have the very first project of our Art Initiative here in the city proudly displayed in one of our stores. More news to come!

We want to continue making money for the city and controlling the responsible sale of alcohol. We also want to continue to update our stores to give our customers the best experience possible.

I look forward to serving this community for many more years.

Building Our Homes Together

The Arts are one of the most powerful means of communication and coping we have at our disposal today. We would like your input to generate the design for Public Art at the Brooklyn Center Liquor Store #1 (1350A Shingle Creek Crossing). Local Mural Artist Guillermo Valadez will begin creating Public Art at this location as early as June 2023.

To take this survey, please scan the QR Code, or go to surveymonkey.com/r/HQ9ZFWG

Survey closes on Sunday, June 18.

Thank you for your continued support and valued feedback.

Shingle Creek Clean Up

Thank you to the volunteers who participated in the Shingle Creek Clean Up in Brooklyn Center on Saturday, April 22, 2023, and those who volunteered throughout the entire cleanup week!

This year people from around the community braved a rainy and cold Saturday to participate in the cleanup. The City of Brooklyn Center proudly salutes you! Thanks for making this community a better place to live, work, and play.

92 New Community Faces on Street Banners!

The banner project involved community members, from youth and adults to seniors and community groups. Each image on the banner also has text to read one of four phrases, "I am the HOPE, I am the HEART, I am the WISDOM, We are the COMMUNITY."

"What this means is when we bring a sense of hope, when we bring our hearts, and when we bring our wisdom together, those things collectively allow us to be the type of community that we want to be and that Brooklyn Center is," said Dr. Reginald Edwards, City Manager.

This marks the second round of banners unveiled and follows the 2019 launch, a massive effort to exchange 230 banners due for replacement. Since then, community participation and support has grown. Last year photoshoots were held in partnership with various organizations and at the following community locations: CEAP, Northport Elementary, CAPI USA, Brooklyn Center Middle & High School, Brookdale Library, Sun Foods, Centerbrook Golf Course, Walmart, The Crest Apartments, Brookdale Covenant Church, Evergreen Elementary, Emerging BC Dinner, The Sanctuary, and Noble Academy.

You may have noticed city staff along the roadside on Brooklyn Boulevard in May. The new banner locations start at the corner of Bass Lake Rd/Co. Rd. 10 and continue down both sides of Brooklyn Blvd until it intersects with I-94/694. Get out and look at the new smiling faces of your friends and neighbors, but please drive safely.

Get Ready! 2023 Highlight

BrookLynk's "Get Ready!" training, is a youth work readiness training designed to help youth and young adults age 14-24 that live and/or attend school in the Northwest Suburbs prepare for the workforce while also getting them excited about BrookLynk's paid summer work opportunities.

This year Get Ready offered four different methods for participation: in-person, online self-paced, community pop-up sessions, and a virtual facilitated session.

On March 18th more than eighty youths participated in a day-long in-person Get Ready! training event at Hennepin Technical College (HTC). The training was designed and delivered to meet young people at various levels of work experience: beginning job seekers, emerging young professionals, and experienced young professionals. The workshop covered topics including resume building, professional communication, applications, interviewing, and equity in the workplace and was facilitated by community members, adult professionals, and BrookLynk alumni.

BrookLynk was launched in 2015 with a mission to coordinate partnerships that prepare employers to engage the next generation of workers and connect young people in the Brooklyns facing barriers to employment with the skills, experiences, and professional social networks needed to develop their pathway to college and career. BrookLynk is a joint partnership between the cities of Brooklyn Park and Brooklyn Center.

This year more than 300 youths completed Get Ready! and since its launch in 2015, BrookLynk's Get Ready! training has prepared more than 1,600 youth to enter the workforce.

To learn more about BrookLynk and the two cities' other workforce development programs, visit www.brooklynk.works.

The National Wildlife Federation's Monarch Pledge

In 2022, the City of Brooklyn Center took a pledge to help save the monarch butterfly, an iconic species whose eastern populations have declined by 90% and western populations by 99% in recent years. Through the National Wildlife Federation's Monarch Pledge, U.S. cities, municipalities, and other communities are committing to creating habitats for the monarch butterfly and pollinators and educating residents about how they can make a difference at home and in their community. Visit the city's website and check out our newsletter for ways you can engage in these efforts. Email: cityclerk@ci.brooklyn-center.mn.us.

Public Art

The City of Brooklyn Center is expanding its Public Art initiatives around the community. Watch for our Artist-In-Residence at various events this summer as we continue to work towards our beautification goals in the coming months.

Beautification is the process of identifying and enhancing existing aesthetic conditions in the built environment, an area, or a city and creating visual improvements. Beautification can be framed as a public health issue that addresses mental and physical health, social well-being, economic health, environmental health, and community cultural health.

Public Art is vital to building a dynamic and equitable City for everyone; it encourages dialogues across differences, inspires viewers and participants to engage more fully in their communities, and fosters civic pride and stewardship.

Public Art is more than Art in public places. It's increasingly about creating meaningful experiences for audiences of all types—creative activities that bridge differences and build social cohesion.

Community Safety

Basic Siren

A message from your City Emergency Manager: I wanted to share some basic knowledge and history of the outdoor emergency warning sirens as we enter severe storm season. As a city we visually observe our sirens for operability at least once a month and signal checks are performed daily. Hennepin County is in charge of sounding the sirens during imminent severe weather in our area. If you have any questions please contact the Fire Department at 763-549-3600 or fire@ci.brooklyn-center.mn.us.

Siren Basics

Outdoor Warning Sirens exist to warn you to take immediate life-saving action. Sirens are often your LAST official warning, coming only minutes before a violent storm hits.

It would be best to understand that Outdoor Warning Sirens warn people outside that there is immediate danger. It would help if you used other ways to get a warning when you are inside structures. An excellent indoor alert system is NOAA Weather Radio.

When you hear Outdoor Warning Sirens, it means that you should:

1. GET INSIDE

2. GET INFORMATION

1. GET INSIDE means to find a sturdy shelter immediately. Go to the lowest level. Find a small room far away from outside windows. Get into a bathtub or other protective place like under a sturdy workbench. Protect your head with a helmet if you can.

2. GET INFORMATION means having a battery-powered radio with you in your shelter. Special NOAA Weather Radios provide very accurate information. Commercial broadcast stations such as WCCO AM (830) and KNOW FM (91.1) and local TV stations also provide vital information.

Tests

At 1:00 pm on the first Wednesday of each month many counties test the sirens with full sound. This is a good time to have a simple emergency drill at your work, school, or residence. When you hear a siren test, at least take a moment to think about what you would do in an actual emergency at that moment.

Siren Tones

There are two different tones used by Outdoor Warning Sirens:

- Attack: the signal for the enemy is rising and falling tones are heard for 3 minutes.
- Civil Emergency: The signal for civil emergency (such as extreme weather, or tornado) is a steady wail heard for at least 3 minutes.

Remember: Many sirens rotate when they sound. Do not confuse increasing and decreasing volume with rising and falling tones.

History

Many outdoor warning sirens were originally installed in the 1950s for warning of enemy attacks during the Cold War. The first civilian use of the sirens in the Twin Cities was during the 1965 Tornado Outbreak.

Help Keep Our Waters Clean

We do not want in here:

Please pick up  after your dog.

City code requires that animal owners clean up after their dogs.

Grilling Safety

There's nothing like outdoor grilling. It's one of the most popular ways to cook food. But, a grill placed too close to anything that can burn is a fire hazard. They can be very hot, causing burn injuries. Follow these simple tips, and you will be on the way to safe grilling.

Safety Tips:

- Only use propane and charcoal BBQ grills outdoors.
- Grills should be placed well away from the home, deck railings, and under eaves and overhanging branches.
- Keep children and pets at least three feet away from the grill area.
- Keep your grill clean by removing grease or fat buildup from the grills and in trays below the grill.
- Never leave your grill unattended.
- Always make sure your gas grill lid is open before lighting it.

Charcoal Grills:

- There are several ways to get the charcoal ready to use. Charcoal chimney starters allow you to start the charcoal using newspaper as a fuel.
- If you use the starter fluid, use only charcoal starter fluid. Never add charcoal fluid or any other flammable liquids to the fire.
- Keep charcoal fluid out of reach of children and away from heat sources.
- There are also electric charcoal starters, which do not use fire. Be sure to use an extension cord for outdoor use.
- After grilling, let the coals completely cool before disposing in a metal container.

Propane Grills:

Check the gas tank hose for leaks before using it for the first time each year. Apply a light soap and water solution to the hose. A propane leak will release bubbles. If your grill has a gas leak, by smell or the soapy bubble test, and there is no flame, turn off the gas tank and grill. If the leak stops, get the grill serviced by a professional before using it again. If the leak does not stop, call the Fire Department. If you smell gas while cooking, immediately leave the grill and contact the Fire Department. Do not move the grill.

If the flame goes out, turn the grill and gas off and wait at least 15 minutes before re-lighting it.

FACTS:

- July is the peak month for grill fires
- Roughly half of the injuries involving grills are thermal burns.
